The CEASEFIRE consortium is thrilled to announce its upcoming, 2nd online training session, continuing its exploration of innovative strategies to combat trans-border firearms trafficking. This session marks the next step in the project's mission to empower Law Enforcement Agencies (LEAs) with cutting-edge tools and expertise, developed as part of the CEASEFIRE initiative.

The purpose of this online training is to build upon the foundational knowledge established in the previous session of December 2023 (see more at News), diving deeper into the functionalities and applications of CEASEFIRE's advanced tools. This online session serves as the first part of a two-part series, in which the CEASEFIRE tools will be demonstrated, based on real-world use cases identified within the project. In the second part of the training activity, which will be scheduled for a different date and will require physical presence, participants will have the opportunity to gain hands-on experience and directly interact with the tools demonstrated in this online session through interactive workshops and other evaluation activities.

Participating in CEASEFIRE's advanced tools training session offers an opportunity to gain insights into their functionalities and impact on real law enforcement scenarios. Attendees will develop a practical understanding of integrating these tools into operational frameworks and engage in guided exploration led by technical partners.

In addition to consortium members, individuals outside the consortium who work in any capacity against illicit firearms trafficking and organized crime are welcome to participate. Stay tuned for updates on this exciting endeavor!
